FROM TOMB OF COLUMBUS

Spaniards Propose to Remove the Old Epitaph.

Madrid, July 26.—When the body of Christopher Columbus was brought back to Spain from Havana and placed in a magnificent sepulcher in the cathedral at Seville, the Spaniards, smarting under the memory of their defeat, placed the following epitaph upon the tomb:

"When Ungrateful America Separated Itself From the Mother Country
Seville Took Back His Bones."

Now that the ill-feeling against America has largely disappeared it is proposed to replace this epitaph with more appropriate words. The municipality of Seville has consulted the Duke of Veragua, the descendant of Columbus, and the duke has expressed pleasure at the idea of removing from the tomb the old epitaph.

Long Live the King

The popular cry throughout European countries while in America the cry of the present day is "Long Live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Payne, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Payne's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the proven remedy. Guaranteed by H. P. Dunn & Co., Druggists. 50c and 1.00. Trial bottle free. ttw

ARGUMENT IS ENDED

Senator Borah Makes Final Address in Haywood Case.

ATTRACTS A LARGE CROWD

Plea of the Young United States Senator Listened to by the Largest Audience Ever Attending a Trial in Idaho—Merciless in His Logic.

Boise, Ida., July 27.—Evidence and argument is at an end and the jury will soon be left to decide what penalty, if any, William D. Haywood shall pay for participation in a criminal conspiracy resulting in the assassination of Former Governor Frank Steunenberg, with which he is charged.

United States Senator William E. Borah, engaged by the state of Idaho as special counsel for the prosecution, spoke the last word Friday night. Judge Fremont Wood will next charge and instruct the jury, which will then retire to consider their verdict.

The crowd seeking admission to the courtroom Friday night broke all records in a murder trial in Idaho. Two hundred people remained in the grounds when the doors were closed after the morning session, and hours before they opened again all approaches were blocked. When finally every seat and inch of space within the courtroom was filled several hundred stood on the lawn under the open windows, that they might catch sentences from the impassioned pleadings of the young senator.

Senator Borah laid the foundation for his argument Thursday night. Friday morning he began an analysis of the evidence, but he confined himself to the murder of Steunenberg and the conspiracy. He linked Orchard to Haywood, Haywood to Simpkins, Simpkins to Moyer and Moyer to Pettibone. Then, selecting only the evidence of witnesses for the defense and leaving Orchard's confession out, he wove the lives and movements of the five men together. Without departing from the records, incidentally clearing up a number of situations left somewhat clouded, he brought these officers and members of the Western Federation of Miners together.

Traces Orchard's Movements.

Then he took Orchard away from Denver and back again to Denver to the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners. This was done carefully and almost monotonously, the quiet before the storm, and then Borah's voice and manner changed. He sprang into action. His voice quivering and his upraised, fingers outstretched, he shouted:

"Watch them now! Watch the five conspirators! Steunenberg is to die in thirty days and they are moving on the scene."

The dramatic utterances and tense figure of the pleader sent a thrill through the courtroom. For the space of ten seconds there was silence. Then, relaxing, Borah continued with his merciless logic. He brought Davis, Copley, Adams and Easterly, all officers or members of the Western Federation of Miners, into touch with Orchard. Without a pause he drew picture after picture of the men associating together at various points. From each place and fresh from every crime he brought Orchard back "home to Denver," and then smiling, leaned toward the jury to ask: "Why?" "Why always back to Denver unless it was to find there the protection and the pay of his employers?"

All those things denounced or sneered at by counsel for the defense found a bold and brilliant paragraph of defense in Senator Borah's interludes, and counsel for the defense were driven into a murmur of protest, now under the lash of pointed sarcasm and again when under a tirade of indignant reproach, culture, Christianity, law and order, refinement, the home and the country found a ready champion. The state of Idaho, its people and its chief executive, each in turn was given brilliant eulogy.

Haywood Shows Little Emotion.

Under it all Haywood himself was perhaps the only man in the room who showed the least emotion. At times his face flushed and more than once paled under the attack as Borah, reaching the climax of the conspiracy, pointed an accusing finger at the man who he said: "Was the criminal force behind the Western Federation of Miners."

Mrs. Steunenberg, widow of the dead governor, attended the morning session, but left early, almost prostrated by the emotion awakened by Borah's vivid oratory. Haywood's mother also left the courtroom in tears, but soon returned to take her accustomed place beside the invalid wife.

Senator Borah's peroration was delivered in quiet, almost pleading tones, in strong contrast to the harsher voice in which he spoke of Clarence Darrow's argument of justification.

"If," he said, "the state has pointed out to you the men who were concerned in and executed this awful crime, then in the name of manhood and the womanhood of Idaho, do your duty without fear of any man or any favor to any man.

"As I listened to the eloquent voice of counsel pleading for their client, there came to me the memory of another scene and another time. I remembered again that night in dark December in 1905—a night that added ten years to the lives of some now here in this room. I felt again the icy chill and faced the drifting sleet. And I stood again beside the dead body of my friend whose life blood stained the snow.

"I felt again the disgrace that had come to Idaho. I saw a murdered man that meant more than murder, for it meant the first blow that anarchy had aimed at my state. And on that night I said to myself: 'Can time unteach the lesson of this hour?'

"Let us then be brave in this supreme moment. If the defendant is innocent, let him go free, but if not, then let him take the punishment that the law prescribes.

"You have a higher duty to perform than ever before was asked of a jury in Idaho. Some of you men have stood the test in the past in protection of your homes and your flag but you have never faced a duty that required a higher courage than now.

"In every home in Idaho the thoughts of our people are with you, mingling with thoughts of things that made these homes possible, and in every home throughout this broad land men and women look to you as the brave men who stand for right and the flag."

At the close of Senator Borah's address and the adjournment of court he was surrounded and congratulated by nearly every one in the courtroom including counsel for the defense.

AGAINST YOUNG GIRLS.

Series of Unpunished Crimes in New York City.

New York, July 27.—To the series of unpunished crimes against young girls which of late daily has exasperated the police, were added Friday the cases of Virginia Barish, seventeen years old, and Annie Galkoweko, a tot of five years.

So notorious have become the cases of assault amounting in two recent cases to murder, that Police Commissioner Bingham has been driven to explain that his army of policemen is insufficient to cope with this particular species of degeneracy. He has warned fathers and mothers not to allow their little ones to aimlessly go in the streets.

The Barish girl has been driven insane by inhuman treatment, an inkling of which was first given to the public Friday. She became separated from a party of friends at North Beach Wednesday and that night was rescued by chance from the surf in which she was about to drown herself. She had been beaten black and blue and robbed of her clothing.

Driven mad through suffering, she fought her rescuer and only with difficulty was placed in restraint. When her mental condition became apparent the girl was taken to the Kings county hospital. There in a lucid interval she told a pitiful story of assault, many of the details of which were subsequently substantiated. Attacked by a gang of nine roughs she was left in a state that to her frenzied mind suggested only suicide. It is doubtful if she can recover.

Little Annie Galkoweko of Staten Island went to meet her father and fell in with another man. She suffered a brutal attack and is under the care of a physician. Joseph Noewak, a steamship fireman, thirty-four years old, and whom the child accused, is under arrest.

NEW TURN TO THE INQUIRY

Given by a Former Treasurer of the Hunchakist Society.

New York, July 27.—Rev. Levont Martoogessian, once treasurer of the Hunchakist, the Armenian society which outsiders say has fallen from its high estate of patriotism to the practice of blackmail, gave a new twist to the district attorney's investigation of the organization.

The priest had been subpoenaed to tell what he knew. This was to the effect that the present agitation, ostensibly directed by reputable Armenians against a band of assassins, was in fact inspired by the Turkish government, whose hired spies systematically sought to discredit the patriotic Armenians in this country. The pastor of the Armenian apostolic church, had, he admitted, formerly been a member and the treasurer of the Hunchakist, but some time ago withdrew. He knew nothing of the murder of the rug merchant Tacshadjan, who had refused to pay $10,000 for his life, and if extortion had been practiced he knew nothing of it. On the contrary he told the district attorney that he himself was the object of the persecution on behalf of the Turkish government.

The priest brought with him a letter from Boston, not signed, in which a threat to take his life was made. He turned it over to the district attorney.

WARRANT FOR LEADER

Attempt Will Be Made to Arrest Teofilo Petriella.

MIGHT BREAK THE STRIKE

People of Hibbing, Minn., Anxious to Have Italian Agitator Taken Into Custody—All Quiet at Present on the Iron Ranges.

Duluth, July 27.—A special from Hibbing, Minn., says:

Fearing the present quiet is only the calm before the storm, a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Teofilo Petriella, the little Italian who is engineering the present gigantic strike of the iron ore miners on the range north of here. The citizens believe if he were thrown into jail on some minor charge it would have the effect of breaking up the strike. Petriella left here Friday morning for Eveleth and the officers have not succeeded in locating him.

President D. C. Mahoney was due to arrive on the range Friday and a delegation of miners was at Wolf Junction to meet him but he did not come. He is expected to arrive soon.

There is a good deal of suppressed excitement over the report that 100 Pinkerton detectives were on their way to protect the big steel corporation mines at Eveleth when an effort is made to open them Monday. The miners look upon the Pinkertons as their deadliest enemies. Despite the protection offered here by deputies armed with rifles and revolvers no men are returning to work, indicating that the ranks of the strikers are still solid. Although many of the idle men are seen upon the streets they do not gather in the saloons and not the least remarkable thing in connection with the general suspension of work is the good order which the leaders have so far preserved. That interesting developments are expected shortly is shown by the fact that Sheriff Bates of St. Louis county arrived here and at once held a hasty consultation with Mayor Weirick. The sheriff claims he can land 150 deputies from Duluth here in four hours' time.

Will Attempt to Work Mines.

The United States Steel corporation will make an effort to work several of its underground mines in the Hibbing district within the next few days. By the first of next week it is probable that the effort in this direction will extend from the larger underground properties of the United States Steel corporation to the smaller mines of the same company.

The Glen shaft No. 2 was worked Friday with a curtailed shift. At the Monroe-Tener shafts small gangs of men worked. An effort will be made to increase the working force at this property in a day or two. If possible a full shift for the day at least will be secured. The shafts at the Hull, Rust and Myers of the United States Steel corporation are being worked to some extent. The Myers has practically a full day shift.

The Western Federation of Miners held a meeting here at which they decided to hold a public demonstration in this district. The plans are not fully prepared but it is expected that the demonstration will take the form of a procession through the streets of the city. The marchers will be gathered from the surrounding districts and will be divided in sections representing each city. One section will be composed of miners from Eveleth. Others will be made up from Sparta, Virginia, McKinley and the other towns on the Mesaba range.

JOHNSON NOT WORRIED.

Governor Looks for No Trouble on the Iron Range.

St. Paul, July 27.—Governor Johnson returned to his office after two days in the northern part of the state. He spent the morning in business and waited an hour and a half after dinner for a call by the delegates to the Afro-American Women's clubs of the state, and went to Minneapolis on business. He said that he was not in the least worried about the industrial condition on the iron range. He believes that the key to the situation is the strike of the ore handlers at Duluth and thinks that will be settled in a day or so.

He said that to a casual observer there is no sign in Duluth nor the mining towns that anything unusual is occurring. There is less activity in Hibbing, Virginia and other of the range towns due to the idleness of the men, but the rumors of lawlessness and trouble were not verified.

He said that there is no immediate need for state troops and did not think the sheriffs would need extra aid. He stands ready to furnish militia companies if the local authorities are at any time unable to cope with the situation, but does not anticipate that affairs will require the presence of troops.

OUR good friend of the Aitkin Age should not consider that THE DISPATCH was taking it to task when the Coleraine saloon item was touched upon and the sentiment expressed that care would have to be exercised in the selection of news items. The Age got caught on the item the same as the rest of us.

CHIEF FLATMOUTH, the last of the famous Indian chiefs of the northwest, is dead. He bore the distinction of belonging to the secret order of Red Men, being a member of the Walker lodge which was named in his honor and they conducted the funeral services after his tribesmen had spent several days eating dog and doing the medicine dance.

THE state binding twine plant at the Stillwater penitentiary is doing a good business. About 13,000,000 pounds has been sold to Minnesota farmers, which is the capacity of the institution, and an order for 50 car loads from dealers has been turned down. The law requires that a reserve of 500,000 pounds be kept to fill small cash orders and the plant will be kept busy to supply this demand until the close of the season.

AKED AS AN AMERICAN

Baptist Clergyman Contrasts England With United States.

LOVES HIS ADOPTED LAND.

Thought of America an Inspiration to Pastor of John D. Rockefeller's Church—Despises Monarchies and Declares Any King No More Useful Than King Tomcat.

Expressing unreservedly his delight in the possession of his first citizenship papers and declaring that the ambition of his life would become realized when he was entitled to call himself an American, the Rev. Charles Aked, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, in New York, the worshiping place of John D. Rockefeller, recently gave to a New York American reporter his reasons for the action he is now taking.

Sitting in his study chair in his apartments, Dr. Aked recited with enthusiasm the story of his desire.

"I have always loved America," he declared. "Had it not been for the fact that duties in England tied me I should have come to this country long ago. I am beginning to regret now that I waited so long. Always has the thought of America been a source of inspiration to me. The history, the literature, the stories of your great men and their triumphs and achievements—all these things fascinated me and fired me with the determination to live here some day.

"I have always had a great longing to become an American citizen. From the very dawn of my intellectual life I became possessed—I might say obsessed—by the idea that my best work would be done under the stars and stripes."

Dr. Aked looks the typical Englishman. He is tall, athletic in build, and his complexion glows with a healthy British hue. He is blue eyed, brown haired and brown mustached. His manner is straightforward, genial, winning. His presence is magnetic. He talks with an ardor and fluency that captivates the listener. His enthusiasm is irresistible. It is a joy to hear him describe his love for America.

"And now—your reasons," I reminded him. "Just why do you prefer this country to your native land?"

"Let us begin with the negative reasons first," he suggested. "To begin with, in America there is no hereditary monarchy. I have been a republican all my life. I have always had a contempt for monarchy. I agree with Mark Twain that, if we had King Tomcats, King Tomcat the First up to King Tomcat the Twentieth would have been just as useful and quite as moral.

"My second reason is that here you have no house of lords to sit on one's chest and stifle one's best ambitions and to lock every path to political redemption.

"Thirdly, you have no established church. I agree with John Morley that the state government of religion has divided England into two hostile camps from the time of Queen Elizabeth, and the conviction of my life is that the state establishment of a church degrades religion most in the hands of its official chiefs.

"Reason No. 4 is this: America has no sectarian system of education—and of all hateful things English sectarianism, with its narrowness, its snobbery and the persecuting spirit which it brings in its train—is its political and moral dishonesty—is one of the most hateful on the face of the earth.

"The fifth reason is: You have no such military despotism as is found in England—no such caste and class interests—no such vast vested interests in the promotion of war. I don't mean to say that there is no jingoism in America; that there are no fire eaters here. What I say is that this bears no sort of proportion to the great, splendid life of America.

"Finally, the drink evil is nothing in America in comparison with what it is in England. The consumption per capita of this country is less than one-half that of England."

"And now for the positive reasons," I said.

"Well," asserted Dr. Aked, "there is a higher standard of education here than in England—education is more widespread. There is in America a restless intellectual activity practically unknown in England that is a disclaim of convention and shibboleth. An Englishman is a slave to precedent. An American thinks his business in life is not to follow precedents, but to make them.

"Again, the standard of morals here is very much higher than in England. The relations of the sexes here are freer and healthier. They are more creditable to the men and infinitely more so to the women. An American girl is a thousand times better able to protect herself than an English girl. The American woman has the happiest life of any woman in the world.

"I fell in love with the American woman on my first visit to America, in 1893. I thought of her then as I think of her now—as the flower of evolution."

APPOINTED TWO COMMITTEES

City Council Friday Night Appointed Two Committees on Water Works Question

LITTLE FALLS HAS PROPOSITION

Would Furnish Power but Wants City to Pay for Toll Line to Convey Current

The members of the city council were all present except Alderman Baker at the adjourned meeting of the city council Friday evening. The principal reason for the adjournment was to permit certain saloon licenses to be acted upon before the first of August, when the old licenses would expire. They were those of P. E. McCabe, Geo. Hoyt and Jerry Crowley and all were granted.

Olaf Anderson, the man who was on the Mahlum bridge when it went down presented a claim for $5,000 damages, the claim being presented in writing through his attorney, F.A. Lindbergh, of Little Falls. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The catch basin on Kingwood street near the East Brainerd bridge was reported in bad shape and was referred to the street committee.

The water works question was then brought up and President Johnson requested that the clerk read the proposition of the Minnesota Water Works company, which had been recalled from the special water works committee and referred to the council as a committee of the whole.

Alderman Fogelstrom thought there was no need to do anything, that the old plant had run twenty-five years and could run indefinitely. The company he said had never talked of shutting down until now and he did not think it was necessary to do anything either now or when the franchise ran out.

Alderman Bouck brought up the proposition of the flowing well at Swartz driving park as a source of supply. He also advocated the use of the peat in the swamp as a source of fuel for power making the startling statement that a ton of peat would cost $4 and would make 100,000 cubic feet of illuminating or power gas. He would also get other statistics from the manufacturers of gas and other power plants as to the cost of putting in and running their plants.

Alderman Twohey thought the first thing to do was to try to float bonds.

Alderman Farrar, referring to Alderman Bouck's proposition, said he was not much in favor of experiments.

After considerable discussion without any result Alderman Farrar moved that there be two committees appointed. One, to consist of the president and two members to be appointed by him, together with the mayor and city attorney, was to see how good a proposition could be secured from Mr. Tighe. The other to consist of three members of the council to be appointed by the president, together with the mayor and city attorney, was to consider the feasibility, desirability and economy of municipal ownership. Both committees were instructed to procure expert assistance, and so far as possible to use the same data and employ the same experts. The motion was seconded by Alderman Twohey.

Alderman Fogelstrom thought the people should be given a chance to vote whether they wanted municipal ownership or not. Alderman Farrar rejoined that there must be some intelligent basis on which the people could vote. An abstract vote on something that might be an impossibility would be useless. On the motion being put viva voce there were no negative votes, all apparently voting aye and the motion was declared carried.

President Johnson appointed on the committee to consider the matter of the proposition from the Minnesota Water Works Co. Aldermen Farrar and Twohey. On the committee on municipal ownership he appointed Aldermen Drexler, Bouck and Fogelstrom.

Mr. Gordon, of Little Falls, appeared before the city council with a verbal proposition as to power. He stated that the power company of that city was in a position to furnish the city of Brainerd with power at 1 1/2 cents per kilowatt, delivered here, they to put in the toll line and the city to afterwards purchase it and the first 600,000 kilowatts to be 2 cents per kilowatt until the city paid for the toll line. He said they could be ready to deliver the current at sixty days notice. He declined to make any lower rate for pumping than for lights.

Alderman Fogelstrom made a motion to adjourn, but before it was seconded Mayor Wise asked to present the matter of fire protection. He stated that several insurance men had urged the necessity of a more experienced fire chief and he believed a trained chief should be secured. Alderman Twohey came to the rescue of the department and said that there should be charges filed if any action was to be taken and the matter was dropped. The council then adjourned.

DELIVERED CHARGE IN HAYWOOD CASE

Special to THE DISPATCH.

Boise, Idaho, July 27.—Judge Wood has delivered his charge to the jury into whose keeping was given the fate of William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with the murder of former governor Frank Steunenberg, of Idaho. He gave the jury choice of five verdicts, as follows, murder first degree, murder second degree, voluntary manslaughter and involuntary manslaughter, and not guilty. The charge contained sixty-six instructions. Judge Wood dwelt at length upon the laws governing conspiracy and the value of the evidence of an accomplice. The charge was lengthy, containing over 12,000 words and covering the case from almost every view point. It is regarded by both sides as eminently fair. If anything, it was the consensus of opinion that the court leaned toward the defense.

The Catholics won the game against the People's church last night by the "divine ratio" of 16 to 1. The result may be accounted for in this wise. Barron says the Irish can't be beat. Most Irish are democrats and "16 to 1" was a democratic doctrine. The People's church team was handicapped by the lack of their regular pitcher and the Catholics simply batted until they got tired and then quit. They started in for a shut out game but Jack Boyle fumbled a grounder and let a man to first and Quinn Parker, who was catching for the Catholics, threw a wild one to second base and the center fielder threw it wild to third and the runner scored on a bunch of three pretty errors.

The lineup of the teams was as follows:

Catholics	Peoples
Parker	c	Swanson
Boyle	p	Erickson
Burns	1b	Doepke

R. Barron	ss	Falkenreck
Sundberg	3b	Davis

STABS LITTLE GIRLS

Murderer at Berlin Emulates
"Jack the Ripper."

VICTIMS ALL ARE CHILDREN

Three Little Girls Brutally Stabbed by an Unknown Man—One of Them Dead, Another Dying and the Third Dangerously Wounded.

Berlin, July 27.—A series of cold-blooded crimes, singularly resembling the "Jack the Ripper" murders, but for the fact that instead of women the victims were little girls, followed one another with remarkable celerity Friday afternoon almost in the center of the city and aroused the most intense excitement and indignation.

Within a short space of time the assassin successfully enticed three girl babies, the oldest only five years, into doorways of houses and stabbed them several times in the abdomen with a sharp instrument. As a result one of the children is dead, another is dying and the third is dangerously wounded.

The first knowledge that the crimes had been committed came when an occupant of the house at the corner of Ryke and Belford streets found the body of Margarita Prawitz, aged four, lying in the doorway bathed in blood, the lower part of the body horribly gashed. This was immediately reported to the police, who were about to investigate the case when reports came that Bertha Lenz, aged three, and Elly Knispel, five years old, had been found similarly outraged, but still alive, in Prenzlauer Allee and Hensersdorfer street, respectively.

Rumors magnifying the number of victims soon spread and the inhabitants of the neighborhood became intensely excited. Mothers sought their children in the street and made them return indoors in fear that they might meet a similar fate. Crowds gathered about the police station, shouting vengeance against the murderer.

In the meantime the two victims who still lived were transported to a hospital. Their condition is extremely precarious and they are not expected to survive the night.

Officials Acted Quickly.

The officials acted quickly in an endeavor to locate the murderer and published an offer of a reward of $1,000 for his capture.

Shortly after the crimes were committed a slip of paper with a death head sketched on it was found on a public seat in the square near the scene. On it was scribbled in a rambling hand:

"Away, away! In five minutes there will be a corpse. There is a child murderer in the neighborhood. Deliver this note to the police. I have killed children in Belfort, Prenzlauer and Hensersdorfer streets."

The note was attached to the seat by means of a sharp single scissor blade, and it is assumed that the crimes were committed with the other half of the instrument.

All the available police and detectives were ordered to scour the neighborhood. Some parents have reported that their children had seen a haggard man about twenty-seven years old, well dressed and wearing a cap, offering candy and fruit to little girls whom he asked to accompany him.

A man was arrested shortly afterward who tallied somewhat with this indefinite description. Later he was confronted by the two wounded children who, however, were too weak to respond to the questions put to them.

The man was then taken in a cab guarded by the police to the police station. The crowd outside the station, believing him to be the mur-derer, attempted to drag him from the vehicle and lynch him, and he was only saved by the policemen drawing their swords and holding the crowd at bay. The people then attempted to storm the station and the prisoner was removed to the central station for security.

Should the two wounded children not die, the prisoner will again be confronted by them.

MINERS ALL ARE WORKING

Strike Is But a Matter of Talk at Coleraine.

Coleraine, Minn., July 27.—The strike is but a matter of talk here.
The miners are all working and all appear satisfied. There has been but little fear of trouble, but the authorities are taking all the precautions possible. There are 200 deputy sheriffs in the city fully organized for service.

These men are held in readiness for mobilization at an instant's notice and are fully prepared for any trouble that may come up from time to time.

There does not seem to be any chance for the strikers to gain a foothold here. The men at work at present are as anxious to remain in the mines as the business men of the city are to have them. The workers state that they will report any effort strikers may make to intimidate them.

Aquatic Events at Jamestown.

Norfolk, Va., July 27.—The feature of the aquatic events at the Jamestown exposition, all for swimming championships, was the dead heat between C. C. Mengel of Yale and George Gardzik of the Chicago A. A., in the 850 yards junior contest. H. J.
Handy of Chicago, unattached, easily won the mile race over all competitors.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

High Temperatures Have Stimulated Crops and Business.

New York, July 27.—Bradstreet's review of trade says high temperatures have stimulated crop developments as a whole, helped retail trade in light summer wear goods and improved re-order business for the latter with jobbers, all these influences favoring some growth of the feeling that early poor starts in crops and trade have been largely made up for. There is about the usual midsummer quiet in future trade lines but fall samples are prepared, low rate excursions begin next month, shipments of fall goods are increasing and collections have improved at various markets. Industry exhibits a lull in some line, notably iron and steel in its cruder forms, though the immediate effect of the strike of iron ore miners in Minnesota has been to stimulate, temporarily at least, the demand for pig iron at all markets. Lumber is quiet, especially at the South, where production is being curtailed and prices are easier as a whole. It is significant, however, that one of the country's basic industries—coal—is very active at the West with general stocking up reported and good quality bituminous coal sells well at the East. Another industry showing marked activity is that of jewelry manufacturing, which is apparently showing signs of a summer shutdown.

Veteran Minnesota Editor Dead.

founder of the Duluth News-Tribune, the last of the old editors who impressed their personality upon events

The Charming Woman

is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain one who could never serve as an artist model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and that sprightly-ness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at H. P. Dunn &
Co. Druggist 50c.

SENTENCES CONFIRMED.

Alleged Conspirators in Guatemala to Be Executed.

Guatemala City, July 27.—The supreme court of Guatemala has confirmed the death penalty on all those sentenced in connection with the recent attempt to assassinate President Cabrera and who had appealed their cases to the highest court.

On July 1, a dispatch from Guatemala stated that 160 citizens of that republic had been arrested charged with complicity in an attempt to assassinate President Cabrera. All were thrown into prison and subsequently many of the accused were sentenced to death. Among the men in prison were some of the most prominent in Guatemala. When the arrests became known, the diplomatic corps, with the exception of the United States charge, protested. No attention being paid to these protests, the British minister was charged with drawing up a note in which the trial of those arrested was characterized as a farce. This note was sent to the various governments having representatives at Guatemala. On July 23 a dispatch from Guatemala stated that many of the minor political offenders recently sentenced by the courts had been pardoned and those under sentence of death would probably also be released. It was said that Germany, Italy, Spain and Mexico had sent notes to the Guatemalan government courteously but energetically pointing out that prisoners under arrest for complicity in the attempted assassination were still held and that neither the civil nor military courts had taken any action in the cases, in spite of the fact that the time allowed by law had long since expired.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

St. Thomas Ont., July 27.—A locomotive attached to a Wabash freight train blew up one mile east of Simcoe.
Engineer Ben Patterson and Fireman
James Calvert were instantly killed.
Lewis Warton, a brakeman, who was riding on the engine, was fatally scalded.

Filipinos Are Apathetic.

Manila, July 27.—The approach of the first Philippine general election on July 30, when a Philippine congress will be chosen, is marked by considerable apathy throughout the islands.
In spite of the strenuous efforts made by the party leaders to bring out the vote.

Sultan's Forces Defeated.

Mellija, Morocco, July 27.—In the battle that has been waging between forces of the sultan and the pre-tender for a week, the former were finally repulsed with a loss of twenty-two men killed. The pretender lost ten men killed.
